Leading the Work Toward Full Human Rights By:

Grassroots Action

NDHRC works with people in North Dakota who are interested in creating local human relations commissions, like those in Fargo, Bismarck and Dickinson. NDHRC supports the creation of student human rights groups in high schools and campuses, and is working to address human rights issues in Indian Country in North Dakota.

NDHRC publishes a weekly e-mail newsletter, the NDHRC PAUR Report (Programs, Announcements, Updates, & Resources) available on the NDHRC website at www.ndhrc.org.

Public Education

NDHRC sponsors an annual conference on human rights in the fall of each year and NDHRC provides support and resources for other conferences and workshops in North Dakota that work toward enhanced human rights.

Legislative Action

NDHRC's staff, board members and members work with the North Dakota Legislature and Governor by providing legislators and the Governor with information vital to evaluate the need for human rights legislation, including a North Dakota Commission on Human Rights, civil rights for gay / lesbian / transgender / bisexual residents of the state, and those who are victims of hate crimes in North Dakota.
